

The first day of our trip to England

On Sunday evening at 8 o'clock we said goodbye to our parents – and to Germany. We took the coach to Belgium where the bus drivers swapped. The new one was meant to take us to the United Kingdom. On Monday morning at 8 o'clock we got on the ferry and after having had a tasty English breakfast we entered the UK at 20 a.m.. Afterwards we visited Stonehenge, a beautiful circle of rocks in a mysterious formation. Then we went to Torquay where we finally met our host families. After we had got to know each other we were happy to have a nice and warm bed again.
